

U. S. SHOULD INTERVENE IN MEXICO--FALL

Scores Administration for Its Inactivity in the Pres-

SHIPLEY DEFENDS WILSON

New Mexico Senator Gives
Long List of Murders
and Outrages

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The Mexican lid was lifted today in the United States senate by Senator Fall, Republican, of New Mexico, who urged armed intervention for the protection of Americans and other foreigners in the stricken republic.

The galleries were crowded to overflowing and remained so for hours, until Senator Shipley of Indiana had spoken for the administration, expressing regret that the subject had been discussed in open session and averring
that no adequate suggestion had been offered to compose the difficulty.

Senator Fall, in a lengthy narration
of incidents of outrages to Americans
in Mexico, held the interest of the senate and gallery for more than three hours. Assailing the policy of the administration as inadequate, and declaring that President Wilson knew nothing about real conditions and had been mistaken in every act of his administration toward Mexico, the New Mexico senator pleaded for intervention
for protection in order to avoid inevitable war.

Dangerous Foreign Policy.

Emphasizing the danger with a great
foreign power unless something speedily be done, Senator Fall referred to comments in the German press over the killing of the British subject, Benton, by order of General Villa's court-
martial and declared:

"When the German official press says
that should a German citizen be murdered in Mexico, Germany would not acquiesce like Great Britain, then I say to you senators there is imminent danger of conflict between the United States and this country with which we should always be at peace."

Public Should Know.

"I believe the American people can be left to handle any critical condition,
provided they are informed on the subject. I am not one who believes, when the press is full of reports of outrages
and details of Mexican horrors, that it can be 'incompatible with the public interest' to send to this senate details of outrages upon American citizens. I am not one who believes that one man
should assume the executive and legislative powers of the government."

Senator Shipley, replying as acting chairman of the foreign relations committee, asserted that Senator Fall's politics would mean actual armed intervention and that intervention meant war.
He deplored the fact that the situation
had thus been discussed in the open senate, declaring that it would have a harmful influence upon the temper of the people of Mexico.

No Remedy Suggested.

"No one doubts what intervention
means," Senator Shipley said, "and the

That the sociability auto run to Texas will be a reality was assured
Monday at a meeting at the Cham-

The meeting was called by Eric A.

BRYAN ORDERS INVESTIGATION VERGARA CASE

Gov. Colquitt May Be Called Upon to Tell of Part Taken by State

DANGER CAPTAIN EXPLAINS

War Department Starts an Exhaustive Probe of All
Facts in Case

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Two departments of the United States government are engaged in seeking information as to the circumstances under which the body of Clemente Vergara, supposed to have been killed by Mexican federal soldiers near Hidalgo,
Mexico, was found on the Arizaco side
of the Rio Grande early Sunday morning.

A telegram to the state department
today from American Consul Garrett
at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, informed the state department that the body
had been found and that details would be reported by mail. No mention was made of press reports that Texas Rangers crossed the border Saturday night and brought the body back, reporting their action to Governor Colquitt. This slow process did not satisfy Secretary Bryan, who promptly wired the consul to make his report by telegram and this is now being awaited.

War Department Busy.

Meanwhile the war department had become interested and Secretary Garrison called upon General Bliss for information. This brought the following report by wire from that officer:

"Investigation in Vergara affair being made. Thus far nothing known here except as published in press."
Reasonably assured that neither United States or Texas officials had participated in any action that might be regarded as in violation of Mexican sovereignty, the state department is now confronted with the necessity of making fresh representations to General Huerta in the effort to secure the punishment of the persons guilty of Vergara's death.

Moore Called Into Conference.

When the case was first brought to the attention of Charge O'Shaughnessy, General Huerta promised an investigation and prompt punishment of the guilty parties if warranted by the facts. Afterward, the federal general at Nuevo Laredo intimated that Vergara had joined the Constitutionists and had been killed by them. The discovery of the body on the banks of the Rio Grande, bearing half a dozen fatal wounds, now furnishes tangible evidence for the further prosecution of the case.

Today Secretary Bryan asked John Bassett Moore, formerly counselor of the state department, to his office for consultation in the case and it is inferred that subsequent steps in the case will be in accordance with Mr.
Moore's suggestions.

Congress Letcher so far has made no report to the state department upon
the case of Salyman, the former Boer

SACRAMENTO IN THROES OF WAR WITH ARMY OF THE UNEMPLOYED

Tired, Hungry and Water-Soaked, 1,000 Vagrants,
at Mercy of Civil Authorities, Are Driven
From City to Cheerless Camp

SACRAMENTO, Cal., March 9.—Suffering with bruised heads and empty stomachs, 1,000 members of the unemployed armies that have been in Sacramento for the last two days were encamped tonight on the Yolo county side of the Sacramento river, to which they were driven by Sacramento county
officials today.

Not all of them were suffering from injuries, but all were hungry. Most of them were cold from the snowing
given them by the city fire department in routing them from their Sacramento camp. They swore vengeance on Sacramento because of the forcible ejection, but as their only avenue of evasion to this city is guarded by several hundred armed deputy sheriffs and the town of Broderick, across the river, is equally well guarded, the civil authorities believe they have the situation well in hand and that state
troops will not be needed.

Routed by Cold Water.

The unemployed were driven off the Southern Pacific right-of-way late today by deputy sheriffs armed with clubs. They at first refused to go, but several strong streams of water
played upon them by firemen started
them on the run toward Second street.
In Second street they stopped to give battle and in the conflict that followed many heads were broken by the deputy sheriffs and police and the rioters were hurled pellmell along to Front street. Some were clubbed hard enough to necessitate treatment in the county hospital, but their injuries did not extend beyond that.

In passing Second Street they attacked street cars, hurling rocks and sticks through windows and forcing passengers to take refuge on the car-roofs. A rock was thrown through the windshield of Dr. John Griffith's automobile, hitting him in the mouth.

Raid and Wreck Balcon.

The army was driven down Front street to the M street bridge. One hundred broke away and raided and wrecked a saloon en route. They finally were herded over the M street bridge
and into Yolo county.

Appeals to Governor Hiram W. Joh-son to call out the militia were unsuccessful, the governor placing everything in the hands of Adjutant General, who was constantly in the line of action.

At the governor's request, a citizens
committee, headed by Harry Thorp, deputized 500 men—400 to duty in Sacramento and 100 in Broderick. The

RYAN AND 23 OTHERS MUST SERVE TERMS

Supreme Court Refuses to Review Cases on Appeal From Former Degree

CONSPIRACY CHARGE UPHOLD

Will Be Returned to the Federal Penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kan.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The final
chapter in the Iron Workers' campaign
to destroy "open shops" with dynamite
and nitroglycerin was written today
by the supreme court, in refusing to review the penitentiary sentences imposed upon Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers,
and 23 of the association members.

Senator Kern, leading counsel for the Iron Workers at their trial at Indianapolis, stated after the supreme court's action that he did not contemplate appeal to the president for a pardon alone stands between them and the penitentiary. Solicitor General Davis probably will request the court
tomorrow to certify its action to the United States circuit court of appeals
at Chicago.

Conspiracy Charge Upheld.

The labor men were convicted technically of conspiracy to carry dynamite
and nitroglycerin on interstate passenger trains. In furtherance of this conspiracy, it was charged that Orville McManigal carried the explosives on such trains to Chicago, Tiffin, O., Los Angeles, Cal., and scores of other cities
from coast to coast.

Evidence was presented to show
that one of the explosions alleged to have grown out of the conspiracy was that which destroyed the Los Angeles Times building. The conspiracy was alleged to have existed from 1906 down to the indictment in 1912.

Of the men who appealed to the supreme court for a review, Ryan was given the longest sentence, seven years. The lower court held that letters produced in evidence showed his participation in destroying "open shop"
structures.

Others Convicted.

Eugene A. Clancy of San Francisco,
vice president of the international association, Michael J. Young of Boston, alleged to have been implicated in explosions at Boston, Springfield, Fall River and Somerset; Frank C. Webb of Hoboken, N. J., member of the executive board, and found to have been implicated in explosions in his jurisdiction; Philip A. Conley of New Orleans; John T. Butler of Buffalo, vice president, and J. E. Munsey of Salt Lake City, convicted of participation in an explosion at that city, were each sentenced to six years.

Peter J. Smith of Cleveland, O., and John H. Barry of St. Louis were sentenced to four years.

TWELVE BIDS FOR SECOND UNIT OF STRATTON HOME

Trustees Hope to Let Contract for Addition to Village Before End
of March

Twelve bids for the construction of the second unit of the Myron Stratton home were received by 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the official time announced for the final receipt of bids.
The board of trustees will at once
open and consider the bids and make an award of the contract as soon as a decision can possibly be reached. With this number of bids to work on there is little possibility of a satisfactory bid
not being received. It is understood that several of the bids were from contractors outside of Colorado Springs.
The trustees hope to have the contract
let before the end of March.

The second unit will consist of 15
cottages for adults and one central building for restaurant and laundry
purpose. The buildings are to cost $125,000 and are to be finished within the year. The new unit when completed will accommodate about 60 people.

35 PERISHED IN ST. LOUIS HOLOCAUST; FEW ESCAPED BY LEAPING INTO STREET

Death List Grows as Firemen Dig Into
the Ruins; Origin of Blaze Still Unknown; Many Rescued
From Fiery Tomb

ST. LOUIS, March 9.—That 35 guests of the Missouri Athletic club perished in the flames that destroyed the building early today, is the belief of officers of the club tonight.
Seven bodies have been recovered and from 23 to 29 occupants of the structure still are unaccounted for. At sundown tonight firemen continued to search for bodies in the smouldering ruins under the glare of searchlights.

Fire Chief Swingley expects to pump the water from the blackened pit before morning, revealing the full extent of the tragedy.

ST. LOUIS, March 9.—That from 30 to 35 guests of the Missouri Athletic club perished in the flames that destroyed the building early today, is the belief of officers of the club tonight.

Seven bodies have been recovered
and from 23 to 29 occupants of the structure still are unaccounted for. At sundown tonight firemen continued to search for bodies in the smoldering
ruins under the glare of searchlights.

Fire Chief Swingley expects to pump
the water from the blackened pit before morning, revealing the full extent of the tragedy.

14 Injured in Hospital.
While search for the bodies continued tonight, 14 persons who were injured in the fire were under treatment in hospitals.

Much difficulty was experienced in trying to identify the recovered bodies
and some were identified under two or three different names.

The blaze was the fourth serious fire
in eight days and the most serious as to fatalities of any fire in the city's history. This blaze, which started at 1:50 a. m. Monday morning, wrecked
the seven-story building occupied jointly by the Missouri Athletic club and the Boatmen's bank, causing a property loss estimated at $468,000.

Origin of Fire Unknown.

The cause of the fire still was a mystery tonight. Reports that the blaze was accompanied by a terrific explosion, indicating that the fire was due to efforts of bank robbers trying to dynamite the Boatmen's bank, were unconfirmed. Reports of explosions were denied by the night watchman of the bank.

In the vaults of the Boatmen's bank,
which occupied part of the first floor,
were more than $1,200,000 in currency.

HUERTA TO BEGIN CAMPAIGN AGAINST NORTHERN REBELS

Orders Governors to Assume Offensive Stand in All the States

MEXICO CITY, March 9.—The federal army today was ordered to take the offensive against the forces under the command of Venustiano Carranza, Provisional President Huerta sent to all the governors of states and all the army commanders by telegraph the following order:

"Today the federal government begins a campaign against the rebels of the north. To that end you will see the necessity that the troops under your command assume actively the offensive
in order to bring to a finish a situation which so prejudices the republic."
General Huerta again cautioned his followers to give protection to foreigners and warned the recipients of the order that they would be held him
responsible for any incident in this particular.

The exchange market here opened on a totally demoralized condition and no fixed rates were quoted. Bankers, who bought and sold at a slightly changing price, put the selling rate at 358 for 100. The selling rate was usually 10 or 15 points higher.

Bankers appeared to be unconcerned
that the federal government was establishing its own bank regarding this as the only alternative to the issue of fiat
money.

The highest point of excitement ever before reached was in November, 1912,
when it touched 25.

No progress has been made by the American embassy here in its search for Innocencio Benavides, an American resident in the interior of Mexico who is a prisoner in the hands of the federal troops. Instructions were recently received from Secretary Bryan to urge the Mexican government to release the man who was arrested near Salinas in the state of Hidalgo at about the same time as Clemente Vergara.

STRIKERS ARRESTED FOR SMITH MURDER

Forbes Miner Beaten to Death
and Body Placed on Railroad Tracks

TRINIDAD, March 9.—Sixteen
strikers are under military arrest in connection with the alleged murder of Neil Smith, a Forbes miner, whose mutilated body was found early today
on the Colorado & Southern tracks at Suffield siding, eight miles north of here.

Smith, it is believed, was beaten to death with a club after which the body was thrown on the tracks to conceal the crime. The arrests were made after a posse with the aid of blood-hounds had followed tracks leading from where the body was found to the strikers' tent colony at Forbes.

The 16 suspects, nearly every member of the Forbes strikers' colony,
were loaded into wagons and brought to the county jail here tonight under a cavalry escort. They are all Austrians.

HEADS BROKEN AND WOMEN FAINT WHEN CHARGED BY POLICE

GLASGOW, March 9.—Mrs. Emmeline Bannhurst, leader of the militant suffragettes, was arrested tonight at a suffrage meeting in St. Andrews
after a fierce fight with the police,
in which a score of women were hurt and several constables injured.
Mrs. Bannhurst had ample justification for fighting for her rights today as man ever had in the history of the world, when a force of police with their clubs drawn, dashed into the hall
in anticipation of trouble, the suffragettes had stretched a network of barbed wire across the platform. The wire was concealed by floral decorations and proved efficacious, with the aid of masculine supporters of the suffragettes, using bowie knives, bats
and anything they could lay their hands on, as missiles in holding back
the police for a few minutes.

Finally when the police stormed the platform a number of women produced clubs from under their cloaks and used them vigorously against the attacking force.

In the midst of the fighting several black cartridges in pistols were fired and miniature bombs exploded. Flashed
by the detonations many women
fainted.

The police seized Mrs. Bannhurst, dragged her off the platform and through the hall into the street. Here
a desperate effort was made to rescue
her as the police forced her into a taxi cab and drove away to the police station.

PRISON STOP CROWD MARCHERS AT CHURCH ON PASTOR'S ORDERS

NEW YORK, March 9.—The police were again called upon tonight to prevent the invasion of a church by members of the army of unemployed, headed by the World Industrial Workers of the World. Through the intervention of the officers a crowd of 200 men who had marched to All Saints Protestant Episcopal church on the east side was prevented from entering the edifice.

The march to the church followed a meeting in Rutgers square where announcement had been made that leaders of the movement had arranged for the unemployed to receive food and shelter at the church. Police stopped the crowd at the door until they could inquire of the Rev. Dr. Mesterton, the pastor, whether he was willing the men should enter. Upon learning that the marchers were a section of the I. W. W. forces, Dr. Mesterton refused to turn over the church to them.

101 Plead Guilty, Freed.

One hundred and one who followed Frank Tannenbaum, the young industrial worker, to the World leader into a Catholic church last Wednesday night demanding food and shelter pleaded guilty today and were set at liberty under suspension of sentence.

Twelve pleaded no guilty. They were held in jail and remained there until tomorrow. Only one pleaded no guilty and obtained his discharge. The charge in all of the cases was disorderly conduct.

The district attorney's office announced that Tannenbaum's case probably would be ready for presentation to the grand jury tomorrow. The young leader is charged with inciting to riot and unlawful entry.

THREE KILLED IN FIRE AT CLARKSBURG, W. VA.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., March 9.—Three men were killed and three fatally injured in a fire which early today destroyed the Lowe building and seriously damaged the 10-story building of the Union National bank of Clarksburg. The cause of the fire has not yet been determined.

Marsh Cannon, district manager of the Philadelphia Gas company of Pittsburgh, and Robert Huggins, who was on the sixth floor of the bank building while collecting to save important papers of the company, "They dropped a rope through the windows and had reached the fifth story when water thrown by one of the engine companies froze on the rope and they slipped off dropping to the sidewalk. They will probably die. Another man jumped from the top story of the Lowe building and was crushed.

HIT BY AUTOMOBILE IN DENVER; MAY DIE

DENVER, March 9.—Henry Lee, a merchant of Edgewater, Colo., was hit and rendered unconscious by an automobile at Fifteenth and Curtis streets today while attempting to cross the street in front of the one building. The driver of the vehicle immediately stopped the car and called for a doctor. The injured man was taken to a hospital where he is reported that he suffered internal injuries.

GENERAL PLAZA HAS RETAKEN ESERALDES

SAQUIL, Mich., March 9.—A section of the city of Saginaw was taken over by a mob of 200 men who had been organized by a man named Eseraldes. The mob had been active for some time in the city and had been causing much trouble. The city authorities had been unable to control them until today when they were finally driven out of the city.

Lewis Gaylord, Former Springs Man, Rescues Blind Man and Dozen Others in St. Louis Fire

St. Louis, Mo., March 9.—Lewis Gaylord, a former resident of Colorado Springs, was credited today with rescuing a blind man and a dozen others from a fire which broke out in a tenement house in the city last night. Gaylord, who is a well-known fireman, was called to the scene of the fire by a neighbor. He found the fire had broken out in a room on the second floor. He immediately ran to the fire and tried to put it out. When he failed, he called for help. A fire engine arrived and Gaylord helped the firemen to rescue the people who were trapped in the building. He was particularly helpful in rescuing a blind man who was unable to find his way out of the building. Gaylord's heroic actions were praised by the fire department and the community.

MICHIGAN GUARDSMEN DENY ALL CHARGES OF ALLEGED VIOLENCE

CHICAGO, March 9.—Members of the Michigan National guard, who had been on duty in the Michigan copper zone in the early days of the copper miners' strike, denied to the congressional committee today all charges of violence and other unlawful acts.

Brig. Gen. Percy L. Abbey testified he had tried to carry out the desires of Governor Ferris of Michigan, that the situation should be handled with great forbearance toward the strikers. He denied he had issued any order that morning parades of the strikers be broken up or that he had notified strike leaders that parades must be discontinued.

Edward J. A. Course of Company C, testified that when he took a squad of soldiers to assist deputy sheriffs to arrest Louis Fodor, a striker, the militiamen fired a few shots into the air to frighten the crowd away. Mrs. Fodor had testified the soldiers had fired into her kitchen. Course denied he had seen her dragged from the house by the bath by a deputy as she had claimed.

Charles H. Meyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners is expected to testify tomorrow.

TELLER ESTATE IS VALUED AT $63,000

DENVER, March 9.—Sixty thousand dollars is the value of the estate, real and personal, of the late Henry M. Teller in documents including his will filed for probate in the county court today. The will was executed in 1908. It stipulates that his daughter and two sisters, so long as they live, and remain single shall be furnished a home and living from the estate. His widow, Mrs. Harriet M. Teller, is made sole executrix. In the event of her death, the property goes to his two children, William Teller and Mrs. Clarence Meyer.

An attempt is made in the papers to estimate the value of the decedent's mining property.

MILLION DOLLAR FIRE LOSS AT WACO, TEX.

WACO, Tex., March 9.—Property valued at a half million dollars was destroyed today when the plant of the Exporters & Traders Warehouse & Compress company, in East Waco, was burned. The loss includes the $100,000 plant, 5,000 bales of cotton, eight box-cars and adjoining outbuildings of the company. Losses were said to be nearly covered by insurance.

A brick warehouse containing more than 1,000 bales of cotton withstood the intense heat.

QUAKE SHOCKS FELT

CHICAGO, March 9.—The seismograph at the observatory at St. Ignace, Ill., recorded an earthquake today which Rev. Father O'Donnell says, apparently was in the Indian or China. The disturbance began at 12:45 a. m. and lasted until 1 a. m. There was a recurrence of the quake at 1:30 a. m. and 6 a. m.

TEXAS OIL CO. SUFFERS BIG LOSS AT KEIFER, OKLA.

KEIFER, Okla., March 9.—Thirty-five buildings and approximately 70,000 barrels of oil were destroyed today by a fire which broke out in a building owned by the Texas Oil company. The loss was estimated at $200,000.

Twenty-three houses were in the flames destroyed.

Others were clambering down escape.

Many Spectacular Escapes.

Thirty-eight guests on the fifth floor were awakened by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Magill who refused to leave the building until they had given the alarm to all within reach. Mr. Magill was house manager of the club. Mrs. Magill was seriously burned.

Dramatic escapes were numerous. One of the most spectacular was that of 12 of 13 men who descended from a fifth floor window to the roof of an adjoining four-story building by means of an improvised rope made out of two sheets. One guest escaped by leaping over a chasm 10 feet wide and six stories deep to the roof of an adjoining building.

Firemen Barely Escape.

While the firemen were fighting the blaze from the fourth street side, the wall facing that street collapsed. The firemen were forced to retreat to the fourth floor. The firemen fled back rapidly, against the wall of a building across the street and escaped the falling bricks by only two or three feet. One fireman was hit and suffered a broken leg.

Late today the smoke and flames were pouring from the basement of the building into which tons of debris had fallen.

Sections of the east wall fell from time to time throughout the day, further increasing the difficulty of the firemen in getting the blaze under control.

Thousands of spectators crowded the streets leading to the burning building. Hundreds visited the morgue in an attempt to identify bodies.

Woman Proves Heroine.

Mrs. Robert Magill, wife of the manager of the club, was the heroine of the fire. Her body was found in medical cotton and her arm in a sling, she told of her escape and of rousing the guests in 25 rooms.

"We had just fallen asleep when I was awakened by the crash of glass. I saw a reflection of flames in a window across the street. I called to my husband and we hastened to the fire escape, but it was red hot.

We then started down the corridor knocking on every door and shrieking 'Fire.' I was starting upstairs to rouse the guests of the sixth floor, but my husband stopped me. He faintly carried me to the fire escape at the rear, the last one available. Just as we reached it I thought of Bridget Mansfield the linen maid.

"I rushed to her room and succeeded in getting her out. We finally started down the fire escape with a crowd of guests behind us. It was like walking on burning coals to do down that fire escape, but I knew that stopping meant death. As we passed each window the flames leaped out, singeing our hair and burning our faces.

Elevator Falls to Basement.

W. T. Hawkins, engineer for the Missouri Athletic club, said he started one of the elevators for the upper floors as soon as the fire alarm was given. The smoke he said, made it impossible to run the elevator to the fifth and sixth floors where the guests were asleep. At the third floor the smoke was so dense that the engineer reversed the car and started back. As he did so, the cable broke, letting the car fall to the basement. Ned M. Scott fell from the window of the sixth floor to the roof of the building adjoining. His hip was fractured.

As he crawled out on the ledge of his window, a fireman threw him a rope. Falling in his efforts to make secure the rope, he hung with his fingers to the window ledge until he fell with exhaustion.

Lee Wolf, a merchant of Caruthersville, Mo., dropped from the end of a fire escape. His leg was broken.

Benjamin F. Williams, a shoe salesman, rushed into the corridor and groped his way to a window sill from which he hung until rescued. Another man jumped for a water pipe near by, but missed it and fell to a roof below. Williams then jumped for the water pipe and seized it but lost his hold and fell. He was injured internally. A third man fell from the window and was killed.

Edward Kaub, a salesman from Chicago, saved his life by jumping from a sixth-story window across a space 10 feet wide and six stories deep. He landed on the roof of a seed store a story below, and, except for a few bruises, was unhurt.

Bail Magnates Present.

Among those who were in the club at the time of the fire but escaped was Walter Fitch, financial agent of the St. Louis Federal league baseball club. Mordecai Brown, manager of the club, who arrived here from New York last night, remained at the club until a few hours before the fire was discovered.

As the walls and floors caved in they sent showers of burning embers as big as one's fist onto the roofs of the neighboring buildings and for a time threatened to cause a general conflagration in the heart of the retail district. To prevent this all the fire fighting apparatus of the city was brought to the scene. The telephone operator, a young boy remained at his post on the ground floor even after the firemen began pouring water into the building. Many of the guests credited their escape to him.

Fire Under Control.

At 5 o'clock this morning, four hours after the fire had been discovered, the blaze was believed to have been under control. Half an hour later, however, the boilers in the basement of the building began to explode and for the first time the firemen under orders of their chief, withdrew from the street immediately in front of the building. It was feared the last two remaining walls would collapse and bury them.

The glare of the fire brought thousands of spectators to the scene and the crowd greatly hampered the work of the firemen until driven back by the police.

AWAKEN BY CRACKLING

Judge C. Orrell Bishop, assistant circuit attorney, roomed on the sixth floor.

The roar of the flames crackling like fire crackers awoke me, said Judge Bishop after his escape from the burning structure.

"Thank God, there was a fire escape in front of my window," he said. "I ran down the six flights I saw several men jump and bounce off the sidewalk like rubber balls. I was slightly bruised coming down the escape."

The directors of the Missouri Athletic club appointed a committee of four to get a complete list of the missing and of those who escaped. This committee established headquarters at the Press club and requested all those who were registered at the Missouri Athletic club to notify them at once.

The committee is headed by Walter Fitch, a stockholder of the local

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You can Bring Back Color and Lustre with Sage Tea and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy, and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, set busy at once with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.

HILL APPOINTMENT REJECTED BY SENATE

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The nomination of Adolph P. Hill to be postmaster at Santa Fe, N. M., was rejected today by the senate. An adverse report had been made by the postoffice committee.

IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

FAT LESS MEAT ALSO TAKE GLASS OF SALTS BEFORE EATING BREAKFAST

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, ache and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy, the bladder is irritated and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush out the body's urinous waste or you'll be a sick nervous wreck. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizzy, new stomach pains, sour, tongue is coated and you feel humiliated, tired when the weather is bad.

Fat less meat, drink lots of water, also get from any pharmacy four ounces of Epsom salt, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to cleanse the kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Fat salts is inexpensive, cannot interfere, makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Epsom salt, but folks who have an overworking kidney trouble, find it is only trouble. Adv.

MEXICAN OFFICIALS AT EL PASO ARE HELD

Charged With Violation of Neutrality Laws; Prisoners Protest

EL PASO, Tex., March 9.—The Mexican federal officials arrested here today were admitted to bail this afternoon. The defendants who are charged with conspiring against the neutrality laws of the United States, include Miguel E. Diebold, inspector of Mexican consulates in the district west of the Mississippi. The others arrested were Enrique de la Sierra, Mexican consul in this city, Alfred Margin, his vice consul, and R. Saldana, said to be a secret recruiting officer for Huerta.

"It's a dirty international outrage," exploded Diebold, whose position is considered an important one. He and De la Sierra gave bonds of $2,000 each and the other two bonds of $1,000.

Their arrest grew out of the detention Saturday night of a number of Mexicans as they were about to take a train for Eagle Pass, Tex., which is just across the Rio Grande from Piedras Negras, which has a small federal garrison.

Some of the recruits talked freely, implicating the men arrested today. Evidence in the case was gathered by Capt. Harry N. Coates, provost marshal, and agents of the department of justice. E. M. Blanford of the department swore to the warrant, which was issued by United States Commissioner G. B. Oliver.

The Mexican officials claimed exemption from arrest while in the consulate after the warrant had been read and after a long parley, without admitting the truth of this contention it was agreed that the defendants should be allowed to surrender themselves voluntarily in the afternoon. This they did.

East Side Improvement Society Holds Debate on Single Taxation Plan

Although it was scheduled to be merely a discussion of the question of the East Side improvement society at Columbia school last night was evolved into a debate on single tax, George Knapp, upholding the radical system, and Mrs. W. W. Price, arguing against it. Both speakers were interrupted many times by questions from the audience, the members of which displayed a deep interest in the argument.

Knapp argued that revenue should be derived from taxes on land alone, valued at its real worth according to use. To tax personal property is to penalize the citizens, he said, and to tax money is to drive money out of the city. The single tax, he declared, will not only increase land values but bring money into the community. He spoke to some length on the system of single tax now in effect in Pueblo and answered many questions concerning it.

Mrs. Price's chief argument was that the single tax will run land values up, she also attacked the men who have been prominent in evolving the system, declaring one of them confessed that he was a robber and others were not of the highest standing in citizens. Knapp answered the argument by explaining the confession of one—Pelle—that he was a robber saving the man had been able to realize a profit of $300,000 on a piece of land in Philadelphia within a few months without cost or effort on his part. He declared a system which would permit such transactions to be unjust and said it was robbery to take money under such circumstances.

The East Side society plans to hold several more meetings to discuss the single tax, the next of which will be held the latter part of this month. Knapp probably will address the North End Improvement society at Steele school next Thursday night.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The nomination of Adolph P. Hill to be postmaster at Santa Fe, N. M., was rejected today by the senate. An adverse report had been made by the postoffice committee.

'Freckles' is Good Play at the Price

Perhaps the most striking thing in the freckles presented at the theatre house last night was the fact that the two sons of the United States were for more generous than the average second set in the more prominent. So called freckles, if considered in this part of the face, are not much less beautiful than the two plain skin.

The show was a success as had been expected by those who had seen Stratton Porter's look from which it was taken. The story is one which is difficult to adapt to the stage. The action is not fast enough to hold the interest of the audience, and no scene is strong enough to compel attention.

For a popular price attraction the company was very good. Julius Vello in the title role and Charlie Bellmore playing opposite him as "The Angel" were pleasing. Vello had a parable voice and the few songs which he sang were well received. Others in the cast were capable. Freckles is a good play at the price.

senator from New Mexico has not suggested any power in Mexico with which could be surrounded efforts to restore peace. If composition of the difficulty is available by watching and waiting the people of the United States could have a just grievance against their government if it should start now the monster the march the camp and the battlefield.

The government is exerting its energies to work out a solution without precipitating war and all that war means. After all we have listened to I put it to you if a practical solution has been suggested. Because the senator has seen fit to leave the situation in this way, does not furnish reason why we should resort to the remedy suggested. The very description he has given of Mexico upholds the idea that it is an easy way out of the difficulty. Of course the situation in Mexico is regrettable. Whatever problems arise in this administration in that difficulty are inhibited.

Defends Administration

Those who are responsible for our foreign policy are doing all that can be done. They are not swift to rush to arms, they are men who think and weigh the facts before they commit us to them. I repeat the notion, expressed today that the department of state and president are neglecting any duty that involves the peace and welfare of the country.

Senator Sheppard of Texas declared the majority of the people of his state were in hearty accord with President Wilson in his Mexican policy and deplored the attitude of their governor.

Every day that passed without intervention was a tribute to the work the president and secretary of state were doing, he said.

"The logic of administration critics is peculiar," he added. They would stop bloodshed with war. Had as political conditions in Mexico are they would be a hundred times worse if we should go to war there."

Governor Only One Excited.

Texans from the border had assured him Senator Sheppard asserted that there was no excitement except in the imagination of the governor, and that they were dealing with both sides across the border in commercial ventures without difficulty as long as they kept to their own affairs. The portion of the population along the border which was American only in name and was responsible for all of the tales of the outrages he said, actually takes no interest in any politics American or Mexican, and are hated to the polls every two years by unscrupulous politicians.

I believe that the majority of Americans believe in the Texas senator, that if this matter is left to President Wilson he will find a way without war. We will pray that the foolishness of adventurous men and scheming politicians will not drive us into war.

Request Refused by Bryan.

Senator Fall said that men who had called upon the secretary of state in regard to attacks upon Americans in Mexico had been told that they represented interests which went into Mexico to get dollars and return to this country. He had himself received such a reply from Secretary Bryan. He said on a recent visit in regard to a specific case. On his return to his office he wrote the secretary saying he had a list of several hundred American adults who had resided in Mexico from 18 to 25 years, and of 1,250 American children 1 year of whom were born in Mexico. These had been driven out of Mexico by Salazar's forces. The letter stated Senator Fall read Secretary Bryan's letter in reply, which merely acknowledged the receipt of the communication.

Referring to the case of violence to American citizens in Mexico cited by Senator Fall, Senator Shively declared:

At a subsequent time when facts regarding an individual case may be put in possession of some senator it will be the opportunity to answer as to what has been done by this government.

Senator Fall's Object.

The object of Senator Fall's address has become manifest to the senate. The same information he was given could have been given in executive session. But it is manifest it was designed to publish to the world facts which have been presented here today.

It is apparent that the senator from New Mexico sees no character in Mexico capable of composing the situation. Would he turn to Huerta to composition? Manifestly not. He has characterized Huerta as a man unworthy of a civil and incapable of handling the situation. Would he turn to Carranza? Manifestly not. Ignoring Carranza would be to turn to Villa? Manifestly not. Is there anyone in the background unnamed to bring about a change with the assistance of a government of the United States? A suggestion of that kind has been made.

Intervention Means War.

The senator from New Mexico commits the people to intervention. He means armed intervention. The very conditions he has described could give rise to other impressions to his contention. The cases of outrages he has cited I must be permitted to say have been extreme and I represent the average. He says it is nonpartisan. I certainly cannot say it has been an indiscriminate indictment of what was a denunciation of the administration. I am in favor of it or what was not done of an indictment of the state department and the foreign policy of David Miller of the present administration.

His impression is he would leave it to our government. It has been inactive and has not taken any steps to establish the rights of American citizens. It is a mistake. A mistake of the worst kind. The state department is a constant enemy of the rights of American citizens. It is the enemy of the rights of American citizens. It is the enemy of the rights of American citizens.

Criticizes Newspapers

During the session before the senate, the senator from New Mexico, Mr. Fall, criticized the newspapers for their treatment of the Mexican situation. He said that the newspapers were full of sensationalism and that they were not giving the people a fair picture of the situation in Mexico. He said that the newspapers were full of lies and that they were not giving the people a fair picture of the situation in Mexico.

Attacks President Wilson.

A large portion of the letter which was read was a detailed attack on President Wilson's Mexican policy. The senator said that the president's policy was full of mistakes and that it was not giving the people a fair picture of the situation in Mexico. He said that the president's policy was full of lies and that it was not giving the people a fair picture of the situation in Mexico.

Volunteers have been brought over the river and a stretch about 400 yards Sunday. March 9, 1914, and described in the bank of this side about 100 miles down the river from Pahrump. This was the first time I saw the body. I did not know who it was. I turned the body over to the volunteers who were a few days later were two bodies found in the field and one body was taken to a hospital and the body of a child had been crushed.

Held for where it was found. It was not interested in just a child and in sight of Pahrump on the bank of the river.

All Refuge to Talk.

LARIDO, Tex., March 9.—Ranger Captain Sanders today said he had no statement to make when asked for details of the recovery of Vergara's body. He named several men known here as those who examined the body, but those men refused to talk when asked about the reports.

The section of Texas opposite Hidalgo is 20 miles beyond the end of the railroad feeding that section and is connected with the railroad only by a rough trail. Such meager reports were available today from that section brought emphasis demands that rangers find any part in the expedition into Mexico.

Vergara's body brought here late last night was sealed in a metal case after his son, widow, and nephew had identified it. Others also made identification. The affidavits of these persons were to be taken today for use of state and federal authorities in official reports.

Turned Over to Authorities.

Later both Consul Garrett and Captain Sanders in response to a urging, said that when the body was brought across the river they were notified and went to see it and that it was turned over to them as representatives, respectively of the United States and of Texas. Both men declined to say anything further.

A careful investigation is asserted to have indicated neither of them crossed the border. On good authority, the exhuming expedition was said to have comprised eight Americans and two Mexicans including some of Vergara's employees. It was said also that the identity of these men was being kept secret pending advice from Washington. What these expected advice might be was not disclosed.

Reports that the body was not found both Garrett and Sanders were leaving for Mexico City today were about a week after the body was not confirmed.

Will Supply Data

ATLANTA, Tex., March 9.—When informed that President Wilson would expect a full report of the recovery of Vergara's body, Governor Colquitt said that he would not yet received such a request from the president. This offer, however, the governor offered to supply that rangers did not cross the border and said that Captain Sanders' telegram was misleading. He expected Captain Sanders' report later.

MINNAPOLIS, March 9.—The body of Vergara was delivered to the United States by the Rio Grande last month.

NEWSPAPERS AND PUBLIC

THE Pueblo Chieftain last Sunday printed an interview with Congressman Evans, of Montana, a member of the Congressional committee which has been investigating the coal strike situation in this state.

What Colorado needs is a higher moral sentiment all over the state and an honest free press in Denver, said Congressman Evans last night during the close of the hearings on the strike situation.

"May I quote you?" he was asked.
"You may, and I am glad to make the statement," replied the congressman. "I don't believe I ever saw just such a sentiment. Why, if this thing keeps on you will have a band of brigands in the two southern counties within two generations. You cannot help it. I am not criticizing the great masses of your people. Personally they have treated me fine, but I never saw such a low moral sentiment. I think it is chargeable to the press of Denver."

"Just think of it, a congressional committee out here expending thousands of dollars, not to help the nation but to help the people of Colorado, you people giving two columns to Miss Raffles and about six inches to this committee. Think of it. It is unfair not only to us but to the people of Colorado. In all my life I never saw its equal. I think the position of the Denver papers is largely responsible for the evident low moral plane of your public opinion. Had these papers taken the high moral position of printing just the facts of this strike as the events occurred, public sentiment would have forced a settlement long ago. Had the Denver press printed the testimony as it should have been printed the public would have forced a settlement while the committee was yet here."

"Colorado must learn that the great mass of her people must govern. There is too much of a tendency for the leaders to divide into factions and the masses to remain quiet. The factional fights have become so bitter and the masses so dormant that public sentiment exercises very little control in affairs in general."
"I am not criticizing so much as I am stating facts. Colorado will never get out of her troubles until she creates a healthier public sentiment, a sentiment that will force a cessation of these conditions."

Unfortunately, there is a lot of truth in these observations. The people of Colorado are not wholly dependent on the Denver papers for their information, so most of those living outside the capital city have had fairly accurate reports both of the coal strike and the committee investigation. But everything which Mr. Evans said about the blighting influence of Denver journalism is true. The exhibitions of petty jealousy, the constant bickering over trivial matters, the abuse and misrepresentation of men and institutions, the subservience to special interest, not only injure the reputation of the city and state but tend to debase public life.

And those newspaper reading is content to view the world through colored glasses. His judgment is warped, his view is biased, he unconsciously exalts the part and deprecates the whole. It is impossible to stick to one kind of reading matter each day without being influenced by it. The better sound one's views may be at the beginning. The brave "moulders of public opinion," as applied to new news is trite and true, and it is a safe assumption that the scandals, political and commercial from which Denver suffers are due in no small degree to the debilitating effect in the public mind of a type of journalism which is not paralleled in any other city in the country.

Congressman Evans' night, Denver needs more than anything else, an honest free press. The change of ownership of the News and the Times and the extinction of the Republican a few months ago greatly improved the situation, but there is still room for betterment.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS

EVERYBODY in Colorado Springs, and especially every parent, knows that we have a splendid school system, but it is distinctly gratifying to find such a man as Dr. A. F. Winship, of Boston, praising it in unequalled terms. And Dr. Winship knows, he has often visited here and he gave the commencement address at the High School exercises last year. In the Journal of Education, of which he is editor, he has previously described and praised the Buena Vista school as one of the first and the best example of the cottage school type, and in the current issue of his publication he lauds our school system in general.

It means something to receive such opinions as these from a recognized authority on public school education:

Every school in Colorado Springs specializes in a really remarkable way. Of course, the whole world knows that Colorado Springs is one of the beautiful cities of the world, and the schools partake of the spirit of its city, style and tone which everywhere characterizes the city.

In the Lowell school, the late Mr. Scott magnified art as have few elementary schools in the country. It has thousands of dollars worth of statuary, paintings and engravings. The art is selected and placed for educational use, as well as for artistic effect. There is a hallway 180 feet long which lends itself most effectively to the setting of all this art. The Pierce school, Brookline, Mass., Miss Mary McKimmon, principal, is the only elementary school that I recall that has such a wonderful collection of art.

The real glory of Colorado Springs in architectural effect is to be the High school plant when it is complete. What other city would have surrendered an avenue 180 feet wide to a high school scheme, even though it was to have the most artistic effect in grounds and buildings in the country?

The best use of memorizing for character, sentiment and culture that I have seen in a school was in the Gayfield school, Colorado Springs. There seems no limit to the amount of prose and verse memorized by all grammar school grades.

By far the most elaborate, beautiful and complete cottage system of school buildings is at the Buena Vista school.

Rhythm has nowhere been so elaborately worked out, so far as I know, as here. The spirit and the results are surely wonderful.

The public school system of Colorado Springs has cost a great deal of money; so many new buildings have been needed within a few years that frequent bond issues have been required, but it is doubtful whether the people ever vote bonds for any other purpose as willingly as they do for schools. The reason is that the taxpayer has an opportunity to see the splendid benefits of the system in his own home, in the education of his own children. To know that our schools are not merely as good as the average but better, more thorough, more up-to-date, is gratifying in the extreme, and reflects great credit on Superintendent Cole and the corps of principals and teachers associated with him.

CAMPING GROUNDS

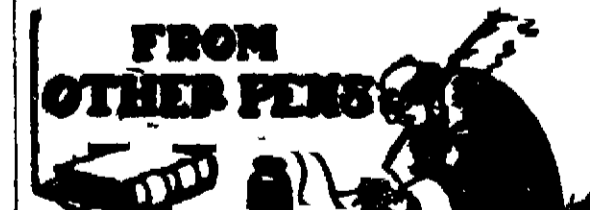

WITHIN the last two or three years there has been a remarkable increase in the number of motor tourists who come here in summer to spend a week or a month camping out and driving over the scenic roads. Last summer there were hundreds of such parties, and it became a difficult matter to find suitable camping grounds for all of them.

Colorado City, through its commercial organization, is now planning to make a special effort next season to take care of all such visitors. The best camping grounds in this vicinity are along Fountain creek between Colorado City and Manitou, and by clearing and improving them much can be done for the comfort of visitors. The effort is worth while, for the increasing popularity of the automobile makes certain the steady increase of this class of patronage, all of which contributes to the prosperity of the Pikes Peak region.

DR. SCHNEIDER'S LECTURE

THE lecture tonight by Dr. Edward C. Schneider at Perkins Hall in the university extension course at Colorado College will be one of the most important ever given in this city. It bears upon the effect of this altitude upon health. Not only will it be of great interest to physicians and scientific men but it will be of great importance to every one who cares to know the result of the most recent investigations by the best trained men.

The work done at the summit of Pikes Peak by a group of distinguished English and American scholars, of whom Dr. Schneider was one, will be discussed by the speaker. Perkins Hall should be crowded to the doors. There is no charge for admission and every one is welcome who cares to hear the best informed man in the Rocky Mountain Region and one of the best in the world upon this subject.

THE BARBAROUS AMERICAN SLEEPING CAR.

From the New York Tribune
If anything can be said in defense of the American sleeping car we do not know what it is. So we can only enter a prompt plea of guilty to Canon Hannay's charges against this barbarous absurdity.

He paints no more than the sad truth when he pictures the great American adventure of undressing, sleeping and dressing in one of our sleeping cars.

"He and what is more amazing, she will undress and dress again in these berths, which are like large coffins, with nothing between them and their fellow passengers except a curtain. I do not know how the thing is done. I cannot get my trousers either off or on when I am lying on my side with no chance of sitting up. The American man can and does."

"I shrink from attempting to imagine what happens to the American lady in a Pullman sleeping car. She does not as a rule protrude a leg through the opening of her curtains, but she does. I am told that her stockings off."

There is only one criticism of this novelist's comment. He asserts that Americans are proud of their sleeping cars and date on the sociality of sleeping within a short range of a score of fellow Americans.
This is a pleasure to deny. We do not put up with our sleeping cars and accept them in a mild, uncomplaining fashion. That is because we are a civilized, long suffering race. We are not proud of the institution, however, and the pleasure that we get from sticking our legs into other people's faces in order to clothe them is very slight. Some day we may even summon sufficient courage to chase it out of our lives."

THE CATERPILLAR

BY GEORGE FITCH

Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

The caterpillar is a small, fuzzy object, which looks something like a young man's mustache in its first stages.

The caterpillar is, in fact, the sophomore of the insect family. He is voracious and undesirable, but later on he will emerge from that state and become something entirely different. The butterfly is as different as the caterpillar from which it comes, as the husband and father is from the bouncin' young sophomore of the open-face, ribbon-hatted type.

The caterpillar usually emerges from obscurity in the spring and eats himself into a comatose condition by early summer. He eats green things, as the sophomore eats pie, and in both cases someone else has to pay the bill. For this reason the caterpillar is unpopular and the man who pounds one with a rock until it departs this life in a messy manner, never has to sit up nights holding his ramping conscience with both hands.

Some caterpillars are very beautiful being gorgeously decorated with various colored fur, like a woman in winter time. As a matter of fact, the caterpillar is all dressed up and has nowhere to go. He wanders aimlessly through life and his only ambition is to crawl out on the edge of a small twig and drop down upon the passing pedestrian.

It takes the caterpillar upwards of three weeks to crawl a mile and at the end of the journey he generally turns around and starts back.

Still, those of us who spend whole days watching automobiles chase each other round a mile track should not laugh derisively at the caterpillar. He is entitled to some amusement.

He wanders aimlessly through life and his only ambition is to crawl out on the edge of a small twig and drop down upon the passing pedestrian.

It takes the caterpillar upwards of three weeks to crawl a mile and at the end of the journey he generally turns around and starts back.

Still, those of us who spend whole days watching automobiles chase each other round a mile track should not laugh derisively at the caterpillar. He is entitled to some amusement.

Supplying One's Own Motive Power

BY RUTH CAMERON

"The attempt to classify one's acquaintance says Gelett Burgess is the common sport of the thinker. From the fastidious person who says there are two kinds of persons—those who like olives and those who don't to the fatuous memorial lover who says 'There are two kinds of women—Daisy, and the other kind'."

"Classifications certainly are interesting, aren't they? And since I have Mr. Burgess' word for it that everybody likes to make them, I will not apologize for adding one more to those I have already made."

Today's classification is the one I have made. It is the many who will run well enough when hit by a motive power supplied by society and the few who supply their own motive power.

For instance, there are many people who will do any work when they are forced to do it. They are the average person in the world, the man who is content to be an employee. They are the vast majority of people who live within themselves the motive power to make themselves do their best work. Their motive is outside compulsion or not.

Again there are a great many people who are hitched up to the motive power of society. They will live up to society's standards of honor and honesty. But there are very few people who think out their own standard of honor and honesty. They have the inward motive power to keep themselves up to them.

In the matters in which society has no voice, the average person is dependent upon the motive power of his fellow beings. What is his motive power? Will he live up to the standards of society? Or will he live up to the standards of his fellow beings? Or will he live up to the standards of his own conscience? Or will he live up to the standards of the world? Or will he live up to the standards of the universe? Or will he live up to the standards of the gods? Or will he live up to the standards of the angels? Or will he live up to the standards of the saints? Or will he live up to the standards of the sages? Or will he live up to the standards of the seers? Or will he live up to the standards of the soothsayers? Or will he live up to the standards of the prophets? Or will he live up to the standards of the priests? Or will he live up to the standards of the rulers? Or will he live up to the standards of the kings? Or will he live up to the standards of the emperors? EMPEROR THEATER

"Three Rags of Silver" in the "Adventures of Kathlyn" series will be shown at the Emperor today. The story:

The chance shot fired by the villainous but keen-sighted Umballah, makes a bone-bruise upon the arm of Kathlyn. This, however, does not stop her flight, or mitigate against the escape of herself, her father, Colonel Hare, Bruce, and her father's companion, Ramon, who escape from prison through the machinations of the clever Kathlyn and meet them at the appointed rendezvous before the powerful prince and his creatures started in pursuit. Fortunately, the escape party is accompanied by Ramon and his faithful wife, Parvati, who are now Kathlyn's constant friends and of whom she has just learned the whereabouts of her father.

The scene is changed from the palace to the desert, where Kathlyn, standing alone, looks up at the sky. All about her is the vastness of the desert. The silence is broken by the cry of a hawk, and she is startled. She looks down at her arm, and sees the wound. She looks up at the sky, and sees the hawk. She looks down at her arm, and sees the wound. She looks up at the sky, and sees the hawk.

It is one of the precious possessions of the place; hence the walled city, and many savage guardians that look after its chief treasure.

The sacred elephant is presumably returning from a visitation where it has been the guest of honor, when a fierce band of brigands that inhabit the hills lying along the desert, decide to capture it and convey it to a rival maharajah across the distant desert. Fortunately, the sacred charge arrives within the walled city before the brigands attain its possession. They, however, are resourceful and have other means at their command, as they know the attendants of the elephant are weary of their duties and will take to their favorite disposition of opium smoking. The brigands outside the walls await their opportunity and when it comes they knock down and bind the guards at the gate, enter the city, seize the elephant and carry away the precious animal object of worship.

About this time Kathlyn and her father arrive in the city and the next morning are informed by the maharajah of the great loss. Bruce, through Ramon, is put in touch with the situation; likewise, Kathlyn, and they immediately offer assistance if required and is given in the form of a military escort, and from this escort Bruce sweeps the horizon with her binoculars. Following her is a large train led by Bruce, together with the savage soldiers picturesque in their oriental accoutrements. They are moving forward, and forward while the troops are concealed. They meet the brigands and pretend to be friendly, giving them quantities of opium as peace offerings. The brigands are disarmed by this kindness and soon stippled into captivity through the influence of the narcotic. As they are helpless, it is a comparatively easy matter to get the sacred elephant. On their way back to the walled city, they meet Umballah, who has been reinforced for the pursuit, but before the sacred elephant, so that Kathlyn and her party are allowed to proceed on their way. It is some time before Umballah, furious over the attitude of his men, rallies them and induces them to move forward. When they arrive at the gates of the walled city, they are denied entrance by the soldiers of the maharajah, and Umballah returns sullenly to Allah in defeat.

The following day Kathlyn and her party again start on their way to the coast, and, strangely enough, are captured by the self-same band of brigands from whom they secured the animated sacred symbol. Kathlyn, her father and Bruce are tied to a tiger cart of the brigands. The chief, searching Colonel Hare, finds his medal and knows at once that he has captured the white king. Thereupon he sends a messenger forward to Allah, demanding a ransom from Umballah, three bags of silver. A few days later Umballah arrives in haste with his silver, but asks only for Colonel Hare, as a prisoner, earnestly requesting that Bruce and Kathlyn be fed to the tigers.

"THE DEEP PURPLE"

"The Deep Purple," the successful play by Paul Armstrong and Wilson Mizner, the Princess theater (Chicago) production of which comes to the Opera house, Saturday, is heralded as an example of a new school of dramatic endeavor that is making its way in this country. Whatever name this new school is ultimately to be credited with, its origin is said to lurk in the realistic schools of France and the Teutonic countries. Yet its character has been greatly modified by its application to the requirements of American audiences. There is none of the morbidity of the Scandinavian realist, or the gleeful exhibition of shocking detail that is so apt to characterize the work of the Frenchman of the same school.

"The Deep Purple" takes its audience into the haunts of the modern criminal, not the petty crook, the sneak-thief or the house-breaker, but the man who works for big stakes through his analysis of the human weaknesses of those with whom he deals. The setting throughout breathes realism, though there is no claim made, for instance, that the boarding-house scene, located in the midst of New York's tenderloin district, has been transposed intact from a real boarding house to the stage. That would be incompatible with the spirit of the so-called new school, which believes in producing the effects of realism through the accentuation of the essential and the subordination of detail.

An unusually fine cast of players they have assembled for the production of "The Deep Purple" make a point of the fact that the leading actors are endowed with naturalistic tendencies. The play, too, has been staged by Hugh Ford, a highly trained specialist in this field of endeavor.

MID-OKLAHOMA OIL CO. PROSPECTS ARE EXCELLENT

New strikes are daily showing in the various sections of the Oklahoma oil field and the prospects of a good oil strike are increasing every week. The Oklahoma oil company, which has the following article concerning the types of oil company property, which is a few miles of that of the Mid-Okahoma company.

The property of the company is well, on the tract of the 95 acres it recently bought from Jim Givens, the Chickasaw attorney, in section 32, 19, is a beautiful well, extending the southward a location to the west. For this land which Mr. Givens owns in fee, the company paid $100 in cash and carries him a half interest, which appears to be a good trade for both parties. The third test for oil, taken on section 29, 19, 12, is being run today, showing for a fair prospect.

WOMEN CAN HARDLY BELIEVE

How Mrs. Hurley Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Eldon, Mo.—"I was troubled with displacement, inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased every month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself."—Mrs. S. T. Hurley, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacement, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, hemorrhoids, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it? Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lowell, Mass.

TOXIC POISON TO BE INVESTIGATED

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 9.—Plans to analyze chemically the serum treatment under which seven county hospital patients suffering from acute blood poisoning have died since Saturday were defeated today when Dr. C. H. Whitman, superintendent of the county hospital, announced that all of the serum made up for administration had been used.

Calvin Hartwell, county coroner, ordered an autopsy performed on one of the bodies, but did not expect to develop anything regarding the cause of death more specific than "toxic poisoning."

Harry Lane, the eighth man to whom the treatment was given and who was reported to be dying last night, was in excellent condition today and the hospital surgeons hoped for his recovery. Dr. Whitman said the serum which is alleged to have killed the seven patients had been used for a long time here and never before caused a death.

It is the prescription of a noted German scientist. An average of 300 treatments a year is given at the hospital, according to Dr. Whitman.

Redeems Promise; Gives Himself Up

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—True to his promise, A. C. Felt, missing cashier of the failed First National bank of Superior, Neb., walked into the office here today of the United States marshal and surrendered. He said he did not know whether he was under indictment or not but if he was not he ought to be and he wished to be returned to the authorities of Nebraska.

News dispatches show that Felt was indicted on seven counts by a special federal grand jury at Lincoln, Neb., on February 3, charged with embezzlement of $2,322 and conversion to his own use of notes aggregating $2,100. On February 12, the Rev. J. C. Pledge, chief of Superior, received a letter from him in which he wrote that he intended to surrender himself here.

In default, however, of any official information here that an indictment was out, the marshal did not arrest Felt, but merely kept him under surveillance until he could hear from Superior in reply to his inquiries by telegraph.

Defy Blood Disorder BY Giving the Blood an Effective Bath

The word Medicine is one of the most abused in our language. There are certain medicinal properties just as necessary to health as the food we eat. Take, for example, the well-known medicine, R. S. S. This famous blood purifier contains medicinal components just as vital and essential to healthy blood as the elements of wheat, roast beef, the fat and the sugar. As a matter of fact, there is one ingredient in R. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating each cellular part of the body to the healthy and judicious selection of its own essential nutriment. That is why it regenerates the blood supply; why it has such a tremendous influence in overcoming Rheumatism, Eczema, the Stomach and Intestines, skin eruptions and all blood troubles. And in regenerating the tissues R. S. S. has a rapid and positive antidotal effect upon those irritating influences that cause sore throat, weak eyes, loss of hair, skin eruptions and the weakness of muscle and nerve that leads so many people into the dangerous path of stimulants and narcotics.

California School System Is Poor, Says Professor

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., March 9.—That the state is wasting a large amount of money in unproductive educational methods in the grouping of feeble-minded and backward children with normal students and that 10 per cent of the instruction in California schools is "repeated because of this grouping," was an opinion expressed today by Prof. E. P. Cubberly, head of the department of education at Stanford, who will conduct an investigation of the school system in an effort to assist in handling the situation.

Prof. Lewis M. Terman of the education department, whose special field is the study of feeble mindedness, commented upon the work to be undertaken by the university by saying that 20 or 40 per cent of the juvenile cases of delinquency coming before the courts result from feeble mindedness; that a study of the younger prisoners in a California penitentiary showed that one-fifth of them is mentally deficient. His findings also showed that among the "white slave" victims from 40 to 50 per cent are feeble minded.

"Of the 400,000 California school children fully 6 per cent are backward and three or more years behind their normal grade in school," said Professor Terman. "Many will never catch up to normal. By proper treatment many are capable of being made normal, while others ought to be segregated and given special schooling. The proper methods of handling these special classes or selecting the pupils are not understood."

WHOLE FABRIC FOREIGN AFFAIRS TO BE REPAIRED

TOLLS QUESTION CRUX OF THE SITUATION

Number of Important Treaties to Be Renewed in Next Few Months

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Development of the American foreign policy as an influence for commercial expansion and the cause of universal peace is a vital concern of the Washington administration in its efforts to have repeated the tolls exemption clause in the Panama canal act.

Aside from President Wilson's assertion that the national honor of the American people is involved in upholding a treaty obligation, there are circumstances surrounding a settlement of the controversy which are expected by administration officials to have a broad effect on the diplomatic relations of the United States with the world.

Behind the protest of Great Britain, is the fact that the support of European nations whose formal objections to the tolls provision have been held in abeyance to await the outcome of England's negotiations with the United States on the subject.

Diplomatic Program. Underlying the settlement of the tolls dispute is an ambitious program of American diplomacy which contemplates an early adjustment of relations with the nations of the globe so that the Panama canal may be opened in an era of diplomatic good feeling.

Though there exists no agreements or obligations or understandings with Great Britain to this effect, the extension of England's reciprocal mood, in the view of diplomats and persons close to the administration, cannot but aid in bringing about eventual triumphs of the American policy in Mexico and a satisfactory settlement of delicate negotiations with Japan and influence a host of other diplomatic difficulties which have accumulated to the United States in the last decade and in which the friendship of Great Britain could be a healthy factor.

Huerta Mistook Attitude

Great Britain's part in the Mexican situation has been important from the start. England like other European nations protested friendliness to the United States and expressed a willingness to allow the American government to work out its policy unhindered, but took no active steps in support of the Washington government.

That General Huerta mistook this for acquiescence in his continued administration has long been realized here. Sir Lionel Carden, British minister to Mexico, recently saw President Wilson in company with the British ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice. The subject of tolls was not mentioned and the conversation included no discussion of future plans or policies in Mexico, though the British minister to Mexico did carry away a distinct impression of President Wilson's unalterable opposition to Huerta. This, it is assumed, may now be conveyed to the foreign diplomats in Mexico City as well as to Huerta himself in a manner that probably would preclude any further support from Europe for Huerta. The possibilities are pointed out by close observers who suggest that diplomacy often needs no formal understanding or agreement but acts frequently on the principle that one good turn deserves another.

England Reverses Former Stand

British participation in the Panama Pacific exposition, for instance, is now being urged by the English press and a majority in the house of commons is supporting the movement which is regarded in many quarters as an instance of such reciprocity.

Worldwide participation in the San Francisco exposition, incidentally, is honored for by the Washington government, not only because of a natural desire for the success of an American enterprise, but because the administration here expects to make of the exposition an international forum for the promotion of universal peace.

In an atmosphere of frank dealing, it is the wish of the United States government to rehabilitate the entire structure of its foreign relations. In this light, diplomats understand President Wilson's reference in his last message to "matters of great delicacy and of nearer consequence" which he said were involved in the proposed repeal. That the president anticipated difficulty in dealing hereafter with those nations which had regarded the United States as breaking a solemn promise for its own interest, is the official explanation of that portion of the message.

Anglo-Japanese Alliance

Great Britain's alliance with Japan, it is believed, already has been a factor in the dispute between the United States and Japan over the California antileague and laws.

Germany, too, has a vital interest in the settlement of the tolls question. That the United States will be asked soon to negotiate new commercial treaties is expected as a natural result of the opening of the canal, which will completely rearrange the world's routes of trade and maritime commerce. Germany has already made tentative proposals for a reciprocity agreement. Outside of Europe the United States is confronted by a long-standing controversy with Colombia, growing out of the partition of Panama and the negotiations for a treaty with Nicaragua, in which is involved rights for another inter-oceanic canal. Prospects for a settlement of the dispute with Colombia through the payment of an indemnity, are considered bright by the state department officials. The Nicaragua negotiations are proceeding slowly.

Continued occupation with the Mexican question has kept the officials of the administration from giving much time to these controversies, but there are hopes that by the time the Panama canal is opened they will have been disposed of.

In the cultivation of better relations with the countries of Central and South America, Secretary Bryan's plan to visit to the Argentine republic and to visit to other countries of the route is expected by the administration to supplement the good feeling begun by previous administrations and carried on by the panamerican union.

There is little or no hogging in northern Italy, yet it is very prevalent in Naples.

WEDDED BLISS BEST FOR ATHLETES, SAY THOSE WHO KNOW

Many Ballplayers Take Checks Home to Wives; at Least They Say They Do

Fireside Companionship Best for Them All, Claim the Managers

By FRANK G. MENKE.
NEW YORK, March 9.—Times seem to have changed.

A dozen years or so ago most of the ball players, jockeys, prize fighters and other men who make a livelihood in the realm of sport were bachelors. But now the greatest majority of the participants in those divisions of athletics are wedded persons.

And it's all because of the men who manage these athletes, or who purchase their services, have come to believe that a married man is more valuable to his owner and more reliable than the single persons.

But in the early days of baseball very few of the players were married. It was thought up to 10 or 12 years ago that an unmarried man could not independently of his wife's wishes, give more to be desired than a benediction. But happenings since have shown this belief to have been wrong.

Managers Encourage It.
Baseball managers in encouraging their men to get married, now have the theory that when married a man is not liable to keep late hours, carouse around, and do frivolous things as the man who has not a tie-or, father, an apron string to bind him.

A glance over the list of the 400 odd ball players who were enrolled in the major league ranks last season, shows that something like 50 per cent of the players—barring the kids who just broke in last season—are of the wedded variety.

Managers of prize fighters are following the example set by the baseball managers and are encouraging their proteges to ensnare a young lady and tote her off into the presence of a marrying parson. They have found the scrapping persons who are married don't find as much time to loiter around where there's wine, women and music as do the unmarried pug.

And when a man gets around in front of his own friends who are not fighting or training, it means that he usually is in good condition.

W. Fuller, the turfman from Texas, favors wedded jockeys, and a bachelor jockey who seeks out Fuller for a job, no matter how good he is, usually doesn't "land" unless he assures Fuller that very shortly he's going to invest a little money in a wedding ring.

Fuller didn't always insist upon having wedded riders in his employ. Until a few years ago he had no special preference. But just about that time he was taught a lesson—and he made use of it.

Then Tokalon, one of his best horses, won the $2,000 Brooklyn handicap. Fuller gave Tokalon the jockey that piloted the horse to the victory, a crisp $1,000 bill to show his appreciation. Redell disappeared at once. More than a week later he was reported among those present. But every cent of his $1,000 was absent. And Redell looked as if he'd had a mighty good time on that $1,000—too good a time, in fact, to be good for his general health, or for his ability as a jockey.

While Redell was absent, Fuller gave $100 to one of his married jockeys, who won a race. That jockey at once hustled home and turned the $100 over to Fuller, and wife jammed it into the bank. Fuller learned about it, and thereafter made a rule that wedded jockeys were more to be desired than the other brand and he's adhered to that rule, finding it a mighty good one.

KILLIFER INJUNCTION SUIT COMPLETE TODAY

Will Be Filed in U. S. District Court in Grand Rapids in Few Days

INDIANAPOLIS, March 9.—After a conference with Silas H. Strawn, attorney for the Chicago Federal League club, over the long distance telephone, E. E. Gates, attorney for the Federal league, announced that the complaint in the injunction suit to prevent William Killifer playing with the Philadelphia Nationals would be completed tomorrow, but that it would be several days before the papers would be read in court. The suit will be brought in the United States district court at Grand Rapids, Mich., as it is understood Killifer resides in the jurisdiction of that court. Mr. Gates said a temporary restraining order to prevent Killifer playing with the Philadelphia Nationals would be given bond to reinstate Killifer if the suit for a permanent injunction fails.

The complaint will be set up that Killifer has signed a contract to play with the Federal League club in Chicago, Mr. Gates said, and that he had failed to report for duty.

COBB SIGNS FOR 2 YEARS STILL GETS HIGHEST PAY

DETROIT, Mich., March 9.—When President Frank J. Navin of the Detroit Baseball club returned from New York today he found awaiting him the signed contract of Ty Cobb. Navin had given Cobb the right to make it for one or two seasons and the champion batsman made it a two-year contract. "The report that Tris Speaker's new contract calls for the highest salary paid in baseball is not true," said President Navin. "Cobb's contract calls for the biggest salary in the game." The figures were not made public however. Cobb wrote he would join the Detroit team at New Orleans next Saturday.

Along the Sportsman's Beat

A LARGE SALE of shoestrings has been reported ever since Mister Murphy announced that he commenced proceedings with such a simple commodity and "ran it up to a million."

FOLKS ARE SO BUSY just now slipping sympathy to Honorary O'Day, of the Cubs, and Charles Herzog of the Reds, that they have overlooked the recruit Athletic infielders. Can anyone have a tougher job than attempting to depose Messrs. McInnes, Collins, Barry and Baker?

NONE OF THE BALL players reported at the training camps afflicted with gout.

They had to buy their own food during the winter months.

WHAT'LL TY COBB do with the "mace this season?" is a question fanned is asking just now. Ty himself isn't making any predictions. You see he hasn't had a chance, as yet, to jump the doling of the man who intends to give him a race for batting leadership.

BUT IT'S A CINCIN bet that when the 1914 returns are in they will show Ty leading his nearest rival by a comfortable margin whether his rivals bats 350 or 500. Ty's habit in the past has been to "see" the other gent's efforts and then go him a number of points better.

IN 1911 JOE JACKSON of the Naps, dubbed 'em out for 405—a remarkable average. But Ty went him a dozen points better. In 1912 Joe swatted 385 and Ty topped him with 410. Last season Jackson hit for only 370 but Ty joined 'em out for 390. As may be seen, Ty gauges his labor by what the other fellow does—always managing to top him with a healthy plurality.

CONNIE MACK is said to be worried just now over the problem "Should I pitch Bender or Plank in the opening world series games this season?"

Sioux City Grandstand Plans Are Completed

SIoux CITY, Ia., March 9.—Plans for the new grandstand at Mizzou park for the Sioux City Western league team were presented to the city council today.

The signed contract of Connie Callahan, last season's third baseman, was received today.

CONQUERS SNOW DRIFTS

Like in most other cities of the east, business in Westfield, Mass., was greatly hampered by the recent severe snow storms. Trolley service was abandoned, and the streets were practically impassable. After the failure of every other sort of vehicle, a large manufacturing concern of Westfield put it up to the motorcycle squad of the company to get them heavy mails to the postoffice. With a solid attachment in which the heavy mail bags were placed, the two-wheelers plowed through the snowdrifts to the postoffice about a mile and a half distant.

Three thousand one hundred and fifty-six miles with a regular cost of only 17 cents is the motorcycle record made by Roland C. Blaser of Two Rivers, Wis.

ADVERTISING PLAYS LARGE PART IN THE FEDERALS' RAMPAGE

Backers of New League Wise to Chances for Publicity in Ball Quarrel

Restaurants, Ventilators and Bread Among Articles Being Boosted

NEW YORK, March 9.—Have you some little business that needs a lot of advertising to keep it a success? Are you pining for some free advertising for your aforementioned little business?

Yes? Well, then, become a Federal league magnate. It's the greatest little game publicly getting that has been discovered since the whale swallowed Jonah.

Charles Weeghman owns a string of 20 restaurants in Chicago. Before he became a baseball mogul his beereries did a thriving business, but since then he's been doing so much business that there's almost a riot each day among persons who want to get into his different food dispensaries so that they later may boast to posterity that once they ate of Weeghman's egg sandwiches, once they slipped some of his coffee and once they even talked—on intimate terms, too, mind you—to some of his waiters.

Restaurants Keep Busy.

Since Weeghman became a baseball magnate 20 new points of interest have come to light in the Illinois city. Persons visiting there nowadays pass up some of Chicago's historic spots because they're too busy giving the up and down to Weeghman's different eateries.

Take the case of Robert B. Ward, the bakery person, of New York, U. S. A. Ward manufactures a brand of bread called "Tip-Top." For a number of years he has been spending a scandalous amount of money in telling the public through the advertising columns to please eat his bread.

But Mr. Ward isn't going to spend much money in advertising this year. Doesn't Mr. Ward own a Federal league ball team that will inhabit Brooklyn during certain portions of the coming summer and will visit seven other cities at odd times during the same period? And won't the team be called "Ward's Tip-Tops"? And won't people ask why they are called that? And won't they be told that it's because Ward, the owner, is a baker, and that he bakes "Tip-Top" bread—the bread that will make you feel like a king?

And Then Ventilators.

And then there's Jimmy Gilmore, the affable proxy of the Federal outfit. Since he's jumped into the baseball business his ventilating produce has gotten more free advertising than it could have paid for in 47 years. Otto Stief owns the St. Louis Federal league franchise. Otto also owns some brewery stock. St. Louis always through Otto's beer was pretty good stuff, but it didn't go wild over it—that is not until Otto became a magnate. Now they fight for the privilege of drinking Otto's beer.

Also in the ranks of the Federal league moguls, assistant moguls, secretaries, vice presidents, counsels, advisors, angels, etc., there are gentlemen who are engaged in the business of selling coal, oil, ice, legal advice and sundry other of life's necessities. And each and every one of them has been given a mighty large portion of free advertising that has brought increased business and, of course, greatly increased revenue.

Edward E. Gates, chief counsel for the Federal league, has a reputation for being a mighty good lawyer in Indianapolis, his home town. But who ever heard of him, outside of Indianapolis, up to three months ago? And who is there now, when the name of Edward E. Gates is mentioned who doesn't immediately know who he is—the lawyer who jumped into national prominence almost over night through the medium of his success as one of the legal advisors of the "outlaws."

"Dat's De Fed Galt"

Former Judge Harry Goldman is another of the Federal league advisors. Judge Goldman for many years had enjoyed an enviable reputation as a lawyer in his home town, but since he became fixed up with the Federals, and especially since the Federals seen on the high road to prosperity—Judge Goldman has become the town hero.

As he passes along the streets even the kids look at him in awe.

"Dat's de Fed Galt," they'll tell you, what give dis here town a majure league club. Hurray for him!"

And the demand for Judge Goldman's services as an attorney have grown to such proportions in the last month that it seems the only way he'll be able to meet it is to forsake sleep and devote 24 hours a day to straightening out the legal tangles of his clients and collecting his fees therefor.

Hembstead Hasn't Heard of Shater's Retirement

NEW YORK, March 9.—President Hembstead of the New York National league club said tonight he had not heard officially from Third Base Shater that the infielder intended to retire.

Hembstead received a telegram from McGraw today, saying he had started for Marlin instead of going on to Chicago. It is believed that the Giant infield problem was the cause of McGraw making this change in his plans.

Another syndicate of Chicago men today announced its intention to try to purchase the Chicago National league ball club. A telegram sent in the name of Modis J. Spiegel, a Chicago business man, to Charles T. Taft, told that a syndicate of Chicagoans had been formed for the purpose of buying the ball club and that a check for $25,000 was waiting to clinch negotiations.

The new syndicate through its legal representatives, announced its intention in the event of obtaining ownership of the club would be to retain 51 per cent of the stock and dispose of the remaining shares singly to 49 other Chicago men.

The difference between the bid made for the controlling interest in the Chicago National league club by John T. Connerly and his friends and the price asked by Charles P. Taft for it is slight. Taft's Connerly expects to acquire the stock in a few days. It was announced by Connerly today on his arrival here with Charles Connerly and the returning world tourists from New York. It was learned that Connerly had made an offer three weeks ago to President Taft, who, brother George, Taft, was once a business partner of the Chicago man. Connerly and today he would soon form a stock company to share with him the control of the West Side club, but that he would be the club president.

President Connerly reported himself as nearly recovered from the illness which attacked him while the tourists were in Italy. He attributed the attacks to the hardships of the trip, and expects to recover fully after a sojourn at Exeter Springs, Mass., whether he plans to go Wednesday.

Arnold Kruckman, head of the bureau of aeronautics at the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco, is the man on whom rests the responsibility for the round the world aeroplane race which has been advertised as one of the features of the great exposition. The race is planned to start and finish on the grounds of the exposition during next year while the show is in progress. While many doubts have been expressed as to the advisability of attempting such a feat in the present stage of aeroplane development, Mr. Kruckman is enthusiastic about the possibilities of the race.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., March 9.—Jack Torres of Albuquerque tonight was declared winner on a foul over Harry Riede of Aspen, Colo., in the tenth round of a scheduled 10-round bout here.

Torres' greater weight and long reach enabled him to gain a lead on points over the Colorado lightweight before the referee stopped the fight.

RANCHMAN USES MOTORCYCLE

Rich Hill, without a motorcycle, would be extremely odd, according to D. Spencer, who is employed on a ranch near Goldsmith, Wyo. The ranch on which Spencer works is 4 miles from Cheyenne and 11 miles from a post office. He has two wheelers he can go to town for the mail in about one hour of the time of formerly looking with a horse. He is also enabled to run a horse on Saturday evening to spend Sunday with his people. Spencer also has a 100 cc. motorcycle on the ranch, finding it very serviceable in making up the mail horse.

I shall not attempt to explain why damp clothes occasion colds rather independent of wet and even of cold.

MAYTOSENA'S SECRETARY

DEPORTED FROM THE U. S.

NOGALES, Sonora, March 8.—Following rumors today that Jose May-torena, governor of Sonora, and Carlos Randall, his secretary of state, had been arrested at Hermosillo on the charge of embezzlement of state funds.
Maytorena's private secretary was deported to the American side tonight.

Licenciado Rosado's sympathy with the Huertistas was given as the cause
for his deportation, but it is generally understood the incident is one phase of the reported arrest of Maytorena at Hermosillo by General Obregon, Constitutionalist military commander in Sonora. Rumors that Randall had been sending large sums of money across to Nogales, Ariz., for deposit brought about investigation. Randall took across the line today nine silver bars
valued at $10,000 to be used for purchasing arms. This dispelled temporary reports concerning him.

Although strenuous efforts were made at Constitutionalist headquarters today to hush up the matter, and
the rumors officially were denied, the story of trouble between Maytorena and Obregon is generally believed here.

NORTHWEST IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY DISCUSSES TAXES

held its regular monthly meeting last night at 518 Columbia street. The increase of taxes was discussed and a committee was appointed to confer
with committees of other improvement
societies on the subject.

RAILROAD TO BE BUILT INTO THE YUMA VALLEY

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Preliminary negotiations for the construction of a railroad from Yuma, Ariz.,
southward into the Yuma valley, similar to that recently built from Yuma
northward, were opened today between Secretary Lane of the Interior and representatives of the Southern Pacific Railway company. In a letter to Julius Kruttschnitt, of the Southern Pacific, the secretary offered to grant that company a right of way for the proposed road.

Secretary Lane pointed out that a railroad is needed by the settlers on the government irrigation projects
near Yuma. Under the present conditions, he said, they were compelled to haul a distance of 25 miles or more
to a railroad, which makes it unecessarily expensive for them to market
their products.

NURSE STARVES TO DEATH

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., March 9.
—Mrs. Clara B. Carter, a nurse, died in a hospital here early today. Mrs.
Carter entered the hospital about two weeks ago announcing that she was about to die. Physicians pronounced her in perfect health.
She refused all nourishment and spent her time in making artificial flowers for her grave and planning her funeral. Death is believed to have been caused by starvation.

DUCHESS OF CROCY, NEE NANCY
LEISHMAN

The recent action of Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm of Germany in paying a visit to the Duke of Crocy and his American bride, the former Miss Nancy Leishman of St. Louis, has given birth to a rumor that the crown prince will intercede with the emperor in an effort to have the duke and his bride restored to court favor. The Duke of Crocy married Miss Leishman, daughter of a former American ambassador,
in the face of the most pronounced opposition on the part of all the nobility
of the German empire from the kaiser down, and the friendly action of the crown prince came as a distinct surprise.

Wilmer Hemming Weds

and Mrs. Charles Fox Gardiner, 1115
North Cascade avenue. The wedding will be a quiet affair and only the close friends and relatives of the couple will be present. Miss Gardiner will be attended by Miss Laura Gilpin, Miss Miriam Gile and Miss Francis Hall. Olin Hemming, brother of the groom, will be best man. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Arthur N. Taft, rector at St.
Stephens Episcopal church. Following the ceremony the couple will leave for the east on an extended trip. Hemming is the son of C. C. Hemming, president of the El Paso National bank.

night. An interesting program has
